

Complaint resolution

1. Introduction

We're committed to bringing your business the best customer experience possible, but sometimes things go wrong and you may need to make a complaint. Our complaints code of practice is set out here letting you know how we handle any problems. It also outlines how you can take a complaint further if we don't resolve the matter to your satisfaction.

2. Making a complaint

I'm not satisfied with the service I've been receiving from Virgin Media Business. What can I do? If you're unhappy with our service we'll do everything we can to resolve your complaint. All you need to do is contact us and we'll work on the resolution with you. We normally try and resolve complaints by telephone but can also provide a written response if needed. If you're unhappy we need to know about it as quickly as possible. You can contact us by phone, online or post (details below). Please include your account number, address and contact number when you get in touch.

If we don't hear from you within 28 days from the date of your complaint, we'll take this as confirmation you're satisfied with the resolution and we'll let you know we're closing your complaint.

What can I do if I'm still not satisfied? We'll always aim to sort out any problem the first time you contact us. But if you're still not satisfied you can escalate the issue to a manager. If the manager is also unable to resolve your issue satisfactorily, you should request that your complaint is reviewed directly by our Operations Manager. If you have followed the process above and are still unhappy, you may be able to refer your complaint to the independent adjudication service, CISAS, depending on the size of your business (details below).

Independent Adjudication

CISAS is the Communications and Internet Services Adjudication Scheme and offers independent adjudication of unresolved disputes to customers with no more than 10 employees. If you're a larger business you may wish to seek independent advice.

You can take an unresolved dispute to CISAS service if we have not reached an agreed settlement within eight weeks of receiving your complaint, or if we agree in writing that the dispute can't be settled between ourselves. In either of these circumstances we will write to you to let you know that you would be entitled to refer your case to CISAS for independent adjudication. CISAS' service is free of charge for any qualifying customer. CISAS will independently gather evidence from both you and us and will then make an impartial decision based purely on the merits of the case.

The CISAS scheme only applies telecoms services (telephone, mobile and internet access). Contact details for CISAS are: CISAS 70 Fleet Street London EC4Y 1EU Tel: 0207 520 3814 E-Mail cisas@cedr.com www.cisas.org.uk <https://www.cedr.com/consumer/cisas/>
